volunteer organization that supports the mission and activities of the Society. They host two training classes each year, one in the spring and fall. What a wonderful way to learn about Nevada's history through volunteering at the Society. Docents perform vital work in all areas of the Society, including in the galleries as tour guides for kids and adults, in the research library, artifacts, manuscripts and photography collection, and in the admissions/museum store. Come and meet this fascinating group of people that share a common interest—a love of Nevada, the Society and a desire to share their enthusiasm and knowledge with others.
