

Our manuscript holdings, which focus on Nevada and the West, consist of over 3000 collections, ranging in size from a single folder to several hundred cubic feet. The bulk of the materials date from the 1850s to the present.

In addition to the general collection, there are individual manuscript collections. The society is almost done cataloging both collections into our PastPerfect database.

We are hoping that by 2014, we will have a new website and will be able to post these lists online.

Included are personal papers, topical collections, records of businesses, churches, local governments and schools, as well as civic, educational, charitable, professional, labor and social organizations. All collections have brief guide descriptions; individual registers or indexes are available for the larger collections.

The Library is open to the public Wednesday through Saturday, 12-4 p.m.

Among our major collections are the papers of:
